

13

> superwoman

We're not superstitious about the number 13 - just delighted to be organising another fabulous blend of great talks, good food and wine, catching up with contacts and raising some money in the process.

WHEN

Thursday 19 October 2017 5pm to 8.30pm

WHERE

Yr Hen Lyfrgell (The Old Library), the Hayes, Cardiff. This iconic Grade 11 listed building in the heart of Cardiff City Centre is the home of numerous Welsh businesses, a café and bar and the Cardiff Story museum. With various rooms for hire, it is a great location for meetings and conferences

The formidable team of Emma Jenkins of E J Catering and Amanda Kynaston of Bay Tree Wine will once again provide our refreshments for the evening. You know we will eat and drink well with this duo in charge.

COST

£35 – net proceeds of the event will be donated to 2 Wish upon a Star, the charity set up by Rhian Burke, one of our speakers.

5:00-6:00pm

AFTERNOON TEA AND REGISTRATION

Network over a cup of tea and a slice of cake. Buy a raffle ticket (donations of prizes gratefully received). An opportunity to order your Christmas wine (or just the wine to get you through half term!) from Baytree Wine.

6:00pm

AURIOL MILLER, DIRECTOR OF THE INSTITUTE OF WELSH AFFAIRS

The Institute of Welsh Affairs or IWA is Wales' leading independent think tank. Auriol was appointed its director in Autumn 2016, having previously been director at Cymorth Cymru. Before joining Cymorth in September 2013, Auriol worked in international development for nearly 20 years in 5 different countries, including in leadership roles for Oxfam in Sudan and Russia, as well as in the DR Congo and Burundi.

The title of Auriol's talk is "Women in public life. A perspective on resilience." Auriol's career history means she has worked in various parts of the world, some of them challenging, and has met women in public life who inspired and continue to inspire her. Drawing on her personal experience, she is going to talk to us about resilience – what is it and why does it matter?

AILEEN RICHARDS, NON EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF THE WELSH RUGBY UNION

Aileen is the first female director of the WRU. She was based in the USA as the Executive Vice President and Vice President of People and Organisation for Mars Incorporated, the global pet care and chocolate business. She grew up outside Cardiff and spent her 30 year career at Mars working in a wide variety of roles in the UK, Belgium and the USA.

Now occupying herself with non-executive Board work, Aileen has returned to live in London although she continues to have a passion for Wales and Welsh rugby.

Aileen will share with us a few leadership reflections on how to get to and stay at the top of a multi-billion dollar global business and how she applies what she has learned to Welsh rugby.

6.40PM

RHIAN BURKE, 2 WISH UPON A STAR

After the death of her baby son and husband, Rhian set up the charity 2 Wish upon a Star. It provides vital support to recently bereaved parents. Winner of the JustGiving Outstanding Commitment award in November 2016, Rhian also took part in the BBC's Mind over Marathon programme, completing the London Marathon in April this year.

2 Wish is the charity for this year's event and Rhian is going to talk a little about what both she and the charity have achieved and the plans ahead.

CATRIN PASCOE, EDITOR WESTERN MAIL

Cardiff-born and Fiji, Cyprus and Pembrokeshire schooled, Catrin joined the Western Mail as a senior reporter in 2001. Soon news editor, she has risen through Media Wales' ranks playing a key role in the editorial and digital development of its newsroom, website WalesOnline and 12 print titles. She became Editor of the South Wales Echo in July 2014, then Editor of the Western Mail in March 2016.

Married and a mum of three - to twin girls, 11 and Tom, seven - she also trail runs, completing several marathons and ultras in the UK and Alps. Catrin will talk about being a newspaper editor in a digital age and about being a hesitant Superwoman speaker but doing it anyway!

STEVE DIMMICK, DOOPOLL

Steve is co-founder of doopoll, the engagement platform that won the Sir Michael Moritz Tech-Start up Award at the 2016 ESTnet awards. He runs the city's most popular book club, CardiffRead and until stepping down earlier this year was one of the organisers of the extremely popular Ignite Cardiff talks, where he was known for his entertaining and colourful compering.

Steve loves working with people who are using technology for good and who are not scared of doing things differently. He grew up in Blaenau Gwent and learned Welsh as an adult after meeting his north Walian wife. He is also the proud father of three.

Steve is going to talk about radio guidance systems, poll tax, Syria and yacht racing.
